Why You Need To Study This Issue By Dona Martin, Editor

What a great spring season we have had! Bob considers our blooms this year the best he has ever had anywhere! And that includes over 25 years of growing roses in California. The rose shows have been spectacular, due in part to the earlier warm weather and the later cool weather. Now there is LOTS of deadheading to do, as peak bloom has passed and we want our bushes to recycle before it gets too much hotter.

So why is this issue so important? The results are here of the two biggest shows of the year, the Scottsdale Rose Show and Pacific Southwest District Rose Show. Most of our members do not exhibit nor do they plan to. But the results reported here are meaningful to all rose growers.

The best roses win at the rose shows. They must be strong, healthy plants and the roses must have good form. A little "grooming" only goes so far. The varieties in these lists of winners are the cream of the crop. These are the best roses not only for the show tables, but for your dinner table! They are the best for your neighbors to enjoy as they stroll by. They are also the most worthy of your investment, in time, money, labor and care.

Study these results. Compare them with the roses you grow now. Would it be work planning for some changes in fall? How much more room do you have? These are the roses you need to consider. Ask us about them and we will tell you how they perform and where you can find them. It will be the best homework you can do this year!

President's Message by Steve Sheard

I am finding it hard to write my closing President's message. Reflecting on the goals I set two years ago, I feel we have done quite well. I had wanted to grow our rose society and make it a benefit to every member; new membership is up and members are staying committed. I had want the meetings to be of a caliber that you would want to invite your friends to join us; I believe we did this. I had wanted the newsletter to be worthy of being passed onto neighbors should they ask about roses; Dona surely has excelled here and the Rose Lore won 2nd place at the National level. Most of all, I had wanted you to enjoy your roses more; we all did this.

I could not have achieved these goals without the dedication and involvement of the board members, as well as the tremendous involvement behind the scenes by many of you. Thank you all very much.

We have just completed yet another very successful Rose Garden Tour. A special thanks goes to all those who put their gardens on display; I know it takes a lot of preparation! The gardens all looked wonderful and our variety of landscapes allowed the public to relate and understand how they can fit roses into their own gardens. Thank you also to Phyllis, Cheryl and Dona for pulling it together. I estimated over 150 persons through my garden which is up from last year and I know Donna signed up several new members. Well done to all.

I believe the partnership we have with Mesa Community College is a major contributor to the strength of our society, as it provides members with the opportunity to be involved in the community through their hobby, their passion, of rose growing. I ask that you continue to provide support to the rose garden when required – like deadheading each month and pruning next fall and spring.

In closing, I ask that you provide Dona Martin and the new board the dedicated support you provided me and my board. By doing this, our society will continue to grow and become a magnet for those who did not know they could enjoy roses here in the desert.

Steve Sheard

Dues are due June 1st! Please be prompt!

Rose Care for May 2006

By Dona Martin, ARS Consulting Rosarian

Irrigation: As temperatures go up, usually over 80 degrees during the day, you should be watering your roses at least twice per week. If you flood irrigate, once per week is adequate early in the month. On drip irrigation, water early in the month two to three times per week. By the end of the month or when temperatures are over 80 degrees, you should be drip irrigating three to four times per week, 3-4 gallons of water per irrigation for each plant. Windy conditions will dry out your bushes more than normal, especially young bushes. If you see dropping blooms or foliage, some damage has already been done! If you have good drainage, you cannot over water.

Fertilizing: A simple program is to use a good granular fertilizer, such as Organo Super Rose Food. Use 1 cup per large bush and ½ cup per small bush early in the month and half that rate if roses are grown in pots. At mid-month, consider an application of a good quick release fertilizer like MiracleGro or Magnum Grow, mixing 1 T. fertilizer to 1 gallon of water. Apply 1 gallon of mix to large rose, ½ gallon to small roses and ½ the rate if grown in pots. For a more complete program, consider weekly fertilization early in the month with MiracleGro or Magnum Grow, then mid-month to the end of the month with fish emulsion. Mix 1 T. to 1 gallon water and apply 1 gallon of mix to large roses; ½ gallon to small roses, ½ rate for potted roses. Always water before and after the fertilizer application.

Diseases: Continue to spray a good fungicide, such as Immunox, every 7 to 14 days at the labeled rate, to prevent powdery mildew from taking hold. If heavily mildewed, stronger products that give longer protection, such as Banner Maxx and Compass, are available at Rosemania.com. Be sure to spray the top and bottom side of the leaves and the soil in the bed.

Insects: Aphids and thrips are very active this month. Spray pesticides at the labeled rate as needed. Products like Bayer Rose and Flower Insect Killer with imidacloprid (Merit), Cygon 2E and Avid work great on aphids and thrips. To avoid spraying the beneficials, especially on smaller gardens, you can use a small hand spray bottle 1-2 times per week and just spray the buds. For best protection against aphids, we recommend Merit. For thrips you cannot beat Conserve SC. Watch carefully for spider mites on the underside of the lower leaves. We have already had lots of them! To keep spider mites under control, use a hard stream of water from a water wand every 3 to 4 days, spraying the underside of the leaves. Alternatively, begin using a miticide such as Avid, Kelthane or Floramite as soon as mites are noticed. Plants can be stripped of leaves by spider mites in a very few days. Spray for spider mites when you first start to see evidence of them. Remember that Avid only kills the adults so you will need to repeat after three or four days to kill the newly hatched mites. Floramite will eliminate both the adult mites and the eggs so it is rare to have to repeat more often than 21 days.

We recommend the use of a "sticker-spreader" or surfactant product, such as Indicate 5, with all of the products mentioned above. Indicate 5 will enable the spray to more easily coat the entire upper and lower surfaces of the leaves, as it neutralizes the pH of the water.

If the nursery doesn't carry these products, check with Wilbur-Ellis in Tempe or Rosemania.com online.

Consulting Rosarian Corner

By Steve Sheard, Consulting Rosarian.

This month I am going to answer many of the questions I received on the Rose Tour.

Plant Labels

I purchased my stakes from Paw Paw Everlasting Labels. <http://www.everlastlabel.com/>

P.O. Box 93 - T, Paw Paw, MI 49079

You will find an advertisement in the American Rose Magazine. I use a Brother Label Maker and use the 1" wide White UV resistant tape.

Finding old and special Roses

I like the web site Help me find

<http://www.helpmefind.com/rose/index.php>

It is getting late in the year to plant roses in the valley. If you absolutely have to – buy a well established bush from one of the nurseries listed in our newsletter and make sure you keep it watered during the summer.

Clematis

These are a wonderful addition to the rose garden. The roots do not compete with the roses. YES, you need to provide a little more food – there is an extra plant! I like to inspect plants if possible before I buy them so I watch for clematis at Trader Joe's & Lowes. I DO NOT buy a plant just to have it. If it does not look healthy or strong, I leave it on the shelf. (I never used to be picky – but it is worth it).

Chalk Hill is a nursery that specializes in clematis and gets good reports. They sell larger, three year old plants and have an enormous selection. They are also helpful in answering your questions and recommending varieties that do especially well in hotter areas.

Rose of the Month:

Cajun Sunrise

By Suzanne Horn, Glendale CA

Our Rose of the Month for March is a splendid exhibition rose that was destined for the trophy table from the day it was introduced, Cajun Sunrise. One of the finest new hybrid teas to come along in quite some time, Cajun Sunrise is a cross of two excellent show roses, Crystalline x Elegant Beauty. Bred in the United States in 2000 by celebrated Louisiana hybridizer Eddie Edwards, Cajun Sunrise was made available to the buying public in 2001 by Johnny Becnel Show Roses.

Since Eddie Edwards is known for hybridizing great exhibition roses, and since Johnny Becnel Show Roses caters to roses for exhibitors, this was a marriage made in heaven. Cajun Sunrise rapidly became one of the top show roses in the country without the benefit of a wide national availability that is offered to roses introduced by major distributors like Weeks and Jackson & Perkins. Since its introduction, Roseshow.com reports that Cajun Sunrise has been moving up in the Top 20 Exhibition Hybrid Tea List in the nation; and the 2004 Roses in Review put it in the Top 10 for big roses.

The most striking thing about Cajun Sunrise is its magnificent color. True to its name, this is the rose that will catch your eye upon entering the garden in the early morning, as the blooms really do reflect the colors of a beautiful sunrise. Cajun Sunrise is categorized by the American Rose Society as a pink blend (pb), which hardly does justice to the luscious blend of pink, yellow and creamy white it presents.

The color has been compared to that of the classic hybrid tea, Peace, with a generous blush of pink on the edges of the petals and a rich yellow at the base, fading to white. It is, however, a much better rose for exhibition than Peace. It is easy to grow, and re-blooms on a regular basis throughout the growing season, making it a great all-around garden rose. Furthermore, these roses have a vase life of four to five days, which makes them perfect for cutting for the home.

Its form is absolutely beautiful, presenting those classic, high centered, spiral blooms that exhibitors adore. The blooms, which generally have between 26 and 40 petals, are full of substance and can grow to as large as 4 or 5 inches across in cool weather. However, they tend to be smaller in the heat. The richly blended blooms, which are somewhat reminiscent of rainbow sherbet, are presented on strong, straight stems and are clothed in a plentiful array of slightly glossy, deep green foliage.

The growth habit of the plant is medium-tall, vigorous and upright, and it averages a height of four to five feet. Although it only has a very mild fragrance, Cajun Sunrise has many other wonderful attributes. For instance, it offers better than average disease resistance, which is a big plus in most gardens; and it is also relatively shade tolerant. I have moved one of my four bushes into an area that only gets about 3 hours of sun a day, and it is flourishing as much as the plants in full sun.

As indicated above, it is not likely that you will find Cajun Sunrise in your local garden center or nursery. However, despite its limited release, this rose has become one of the most sought after exhibition roses in commerce. Reference the picture of the beautiful Queen of Show from the 2004 Orange County Rose Society Show, exhibited by top Southern California exhibitor Gerry Youngewirth.

For those who will go the extra mile to find it--and you will most certainly have to mail order it--Cajun Sunrise will be well worth the effort. This outstanding hybrid tea is available from Almost Heaven Roses on its own roots, Wisconsin Roses on multiflora understock, and from Johnny Becnel Show Roses, K&M Nursery and Cool Roses on fortuniana understock. [Fortuniana preferred in Arizona.]

In conclusion, Cajun Sunrise is not only a great show rose, but is also an outstanding garden rose that is sure to reward you with breathtaking long-stemmed beauties throughout the growing season. So take my advice and add a little morning glory to your garden with the pride of Louisiana, Cajun Sunrise!

The Rose Society of Glendale did a terrific job of planning and organizing the recent 2006 Pacific Southwest District Convention and Rose Show in Scottsdale. As one of the smaller rose societies in the state with about 40 members, Glendale's dedicated members achieved one of the best conventions in many years in an excellent facility.

The Mesa-East Valley Rose Society was very well represented in the horticulture and arrangement sections of the rose show and in the District awards. Our members can be seen in the many awards preceding this commentary.

The top American Rose Society honor that the District may award, the Silver Honor Medal, is reserved for only the most outstanding individuals who have provided meritorious service to the rose and its culture, for efforts expended in support of the American Rose Society and its objectives within the District. This year's award went to Kreg Hill and Bill Christensen of Albuquerque and Palm Desert for the incredible effort that they've expended throughout the District in promoting rose arranging. An additional Silver Honor Medal went to long time Valley Rosarian "Doc" Richard Fields for his many years of service in leadership, community and club service.

Marylou Coffman and Nelson Mitchell were honored as ARS Outstanding Judges this year, well deserved by each of them. Marylou has not been a judge for very long, but has excelled in the Arrangements area, through her own extensive knowledge and talent, along with the enthusiasm and dedication needed to draw others into this expanding side of the exhibition floor. She has organized many well attended arrangement seminars and/or attended them throughout the District. Congratulations to Marylou!

And Nelson Mitchell. What can we say about Nelson?! As one of Arizona's most beloved rosarians, he is never to be seen without a smile and a big hug. He is the most reliable member and judge, always displaying a calm and elegant demeanor, peaceful and kind to all. We are thrilled by his receipt of being honored as this year's top Horticulture Judge.

It takes so much work to plan and organize a convention. Those members of MEVRS who assisted in the 2003 convention here in Mesa will remember the many ups and downs, the excitement and exhaustion, the friendships forged and sometimes even tested! But we grow stronger with these experiences and as we give to the service of the rose and to our fellow man, we receive much more in return. Please remember to thank again those members who assisted with the 2006 Convention when next you see them!
